

MCAS

Mast cell activation syndrome (MCAS) is a newly recognized immunological condition in which mast cells inappropriately and excessively release chemical mediators (such as histamine), resulting in a range of chronic symptoms, including tachycardia, abdominal cramping, rashes or hives, anaphylaxis or near-anaphylaxis attacks.

lymestats.org

Source: No#lymestats Publishers