

Organ Donors

In 2013, three fatal cases of Lyme carditis were reported to the CDC. All three were organ donors. This was the method of detection of Lyme carditis in two cases. Prior to discovery of the bacteria, corneas were transplanted to three recipients.

lymestats.org